

The Right Fuelcard Company Ltd. – Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

Introduction

The Right Fuelcard Company Ltd. is committed to preventing slavery and human trafficking in all business activities. This statement outlines the steps we have put in place with the aim of ensuring that there is no slavery or human trafficking in our own business and supply chains.

We all have a duty to be alert to risks, however small. Staff are expected to report their concerns and management to act upon them.

Organisational structure and supply chains

The Right Fuelcard Company Ltd. is a Private Ltd company whose main business activity is the distribution of fuel cards. The Group Head Office and all trading outlets are situated within in the United Kingdom.

The Right Fuelcard Company Ltd. has annual turnover in excess of £36m.

Policies

The Company is committed to ensuring that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in our business or our supply chains. This Statement affirms its intention to act ethically in our business relationships.

The following policies, set down our approach to the identification of modern slavery risks and steps to be taken to prevent slavery and human trafficking in our operations.

- Whistleblowing policy – the Company encourages all its workers, customers and other business partners to report any concerns related to its direct activities or its supply chains.
- Code of Ethics – The Code of Ethics sets down the actions and behaviour expected of employees when representing the Company.
- Anti-Slavery policy – details our commitment to acting with integrity in all business relationships, implementing and enforcing effective processes to ensure slavery and human trafficking is not taking place in our supply chains.

Due Diligence Processes for Slavery and Human Trafficking

The Company undertakes due diligence when considering taking on new suppliers, and regularly reviews its existing suppliers.

The Company's due diligence process includes building long-standing relationships with suppliers and making clear our expectations to business partners. We expect each entity on the supply chain to have suitable anti-slavery and human trafficking policies and processes and to adopt 'one up' due diligence on the next link in the supply chain, as it is not practical for all participants to have a direct relationship with all links in the supply chain.

We will evaluate the modern slavery and human trafficking risks of each new supplier, the Right Fuelcard Company Ltd. will not support, or deal with, any business knowingly involved in slavery or human trafficking.

Training

To ensure a high level of understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our supply chains and our business we will provide training to relevant members of staff. All Directors have been briefed on the subject.

This Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement will be regularly reviewed and updated as necessary. The Board of Directors endorses this policy statement and is fully committed to its implementation.

This Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes our company's slavery and human trafficking statement for the current financial year.

It has been approved and authorised by:

Elizabeth Slater

Managing Director

01/04/2016